The Dinton Hammond House is a three bay wide two and one-half story stuccoed over stone residence. Although the Dinton Hammond House has been significantly altered from its original appearance by the addition of cement stucco, the building is important to the area as the residence of Major Dinton Hammond, CSA, whose family immigrated to the New Market area from Anne Arundal County in the eighteenth century.

A monument was erected in his honor soon after the end of the Civil War on the premises of the farm.

The Dinton Hammond House is a three bay wide two and one-half story stuccoed over stone residence which faces east from the west side of Boyer's Mill Road near New Market.

The main entrance, a pinned four panel door with four light transom is located in the first bay from the southeast corner. Double hung 6/6 windows occupy the remaining bays on the first and second level. A crude modern one story porch extends the facade of the building.

A four bay wide two story addition extends to the rear of the house. A two story open porch which extended along the south side of the addition has been closed in with frame and window panels.

The interior of the building although altered, retains Victorian woodwork with symmetrical corner blocks and turned newel post.

The flank gabled standing seam tin roof is attached to the residence by a stepped brick cornice on the main block, and boxed cornice to the rear. A large stuccoed interior chimney flanks the north gable. A small stuccoed chimney extends from the center of the addition.

The entire structure is built on a low random stone foundation. A stone monument, frame barn and carriage shed are also located on the premises.
